BACK TRACK FOR HOME

Taken by Some Sports Whose Means Are Limited.

EL PASO IS A QUIET PLACE.

Fitzsimmons Is Very Tired of Being Constantly Dogged by the Rangers, Who Would Evidently Like to Get a Shot at Him.

EL PASO, TEX., Feb. 15.—Instead of being in the whirl of excitement over the great prizefight, El Paso is about the quietest place on earth. There was a sorely disappointed crowd of sports hanging around the street corners, and several of them not fortified for the financial strain of a long stay in El Paso were forced to take the back track for home. These, however, were few in number, and the majority are hanging on with implicit faith in Scurry's ability to pull off the fight as he has agreed to do.

If Maher's eyes do not recover with sufficient rapidity to enable him to get into the ring next Monday, Fitzsimmons will decline to wait any longer. Fitzsimmons is a sorely disappointed man over the turn things are taking, and is a little inclined to find fault with Maher for not taking such prompt precautions during his training.

The constant dogging of his every movement by the rangers has added another feature to the disgust which Fitzsimmons entertains of the general situation. There is no doubt that he is very anxious to fight, provided he does not run up against a jail, and particularly a Mexican jail.

Maher may be able to fight Monday, but it is doubtful. It is likely to be a week, and he may not come around by that time. His eyes are in a very bad shape and there is no telling with any certainty when he will be able to see clearly.

The Mexican collector for the part of Juarez, Manuel Baubhe, one of the most genial and pleasant of men, sat at his desk in the custom house with a tremendous big revolver before him, and in the court of the federal building stood several horses ready for him and his employees to mount and ride to the battleground.

Julian went to Federal headquarters in company with a friend who brought him the information that the whole Fitzsimmons retinue was to be ordered out of Mexico. Julian thought it advisable not to wait for the order. He told Collector Baubhe that he had no intention of violating Mexican law, and that at the fight was to have taken place in Mexico all the time of the Fitzsimmons party would have been sent out before.

Thomas G. Roark, the brother of Joe Walcott, will have his man weigh in and claim the defeat of Dan Street if the fight between his man and Bright Eyes is not brought off.

CONFIDENCE INCREASES.

This, too, in the face of the fact that business is still depressed.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says: The weather-till business becomes, and continued closeness of money and prolonged inaction of congress, but confidence increases.

Pig iron at the east and at Chicago has not advanced, southern competition continuing at prices so low that several Alabama furnaces have stopped, but Bessemer is a shade lower at Pittsburgh. The demand for plates, sheets and wire nails continues fairly good and there are more orders for railroad cars and bar iron at Chicago, but no further sales of rails appear, and the demand for finished products keeps but 7 per cent capacity employed. The coke output is again much reduced. Copper is a shade higher at 10 1/2 cents, while tin and lead are not active and unchanged.

The demand for boots and shoes is still disappointing. Several factories having closed and few are working full time. Textile work shows little change. Many mills are reporting great profits last year from the rise in cotton, but the prospect of a larger crop this year does not portend a depreciation of such gain. Sales of yarn are small, but higher prices abroad are sustained by heavy shipments of goods to this country.

Wheat has declined 3/4 cent. Corn is a shade lower, and both pork and lard a little lower. Cotton has declined an eighth.

Failures for the week have been 321 in the United States against 370 last year, and 17 in Canada against 51 last year.

HORRIBLE OUTRAGES.

Young Armenian Persecuted by a Letter From His Former Home.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 15.—Giragos Tomasi is a young Armenian of this city who has just received and news from home. The young man is almost prostrated by a letter which he received from his uncle at Khajian Tomian, written Dec. 21, 1895, in the village of Ouzumalla, Pahlana, province of Diarbekir, Armenia. This place is 20 days distant from Constantinople by horse.

The letter says: "I write you the horrible happenings which are unexampled in the history of our village. Brother, they have struck our quiet village; they have burned our church and our home and robbed us of everything. They have killed nearly every one. Those who are left have changed their religion and have become Mohammedans."

"But this is not all. Let me write and relate about your home. Your brother's wife and your little boy are killed. Your wife and mother have thrown themselves into the Euphrates in order to save themselves from the

TURKISH OUTRAGES.

Your sister is living yet, but I wish she might have been killed with the rest, for they have taken her and married her to a Kurd and have changed her religion to Mohammedanism. The massacre continued for three days. Very few of us are left now in the village."

AWFUL EXPERIENCE.

Five of a Shipwrecked Crew Dead and the Others Unconscious.

CARROLL, Fla., Feb. 15.—Ten days ago 11 fishermen left Key West in a smack for the west coast fishing grounds, and when two days out the smack was wrecked, the men taking to a small boat, naked and with neither food nor water. The boat struck on Dog Island, and when discovered contained six men barely alive and five corpses. The survivors were lying unconscious on the decomposing bodies of their comrades. Marks on the dead bodies suggest that the survivors, delirious from their terrible sufferings, may have tried to sustain life in a revolting manner.

THE IRON TRADE.

General Steadiness of Prices and a Hopeful Feeling.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 15.—The Iron Trade Review says:

While there is no pronounced increase in mill tonnage from week to week, the feeling in the iron market continues hopeful. A significant feature is the general steadiness of prices on finished material, with so many mills only partly employed. The confidence that much larger demand is not far ahead serves to hold prices where they are, and mills seem unwilling to make the sharp cuts that might result in fuller order books.

Spanish Story of a Fight.

MADRID, Feb. 15. Dispatches received here from Havana say that the Spaniards under General Cornell and Colonel Hernandez have defeated the insurgents under General Antonio Maceo, north of Pinar del Rio, the capital of the province of that name. The dispatches add that the insurgents lost 24 killed, while the Spanish loss was only two killed and seven wounded, including General Cornell, who was slightly injured.

A Test Case.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—An important matter was argued in the United States district court in the case of the Atlantic and Pacific railroad against the United States. The railroad is ostensibly suing to secure $100,000 for the transportation of a soldier over its line. The real point to be decided is whether the road is a land-grant railroad or not. If it is, it is only entitled to half rates for carrying soldiers; if it is not, it can collect full fares.

Damages Awarded.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—The jury in the holiday damage case brought in a verdict which awarded damages to Mrs. Fannie Holliday in the sum of $600 for malicious prosecution. FIGHT WITH A BURGLAR

The Masked Crook Was Killed by a Brave Butler.

THE BUTLER WAS WOUNDED.

There Were Three of the Outlaws, Two of Whom Beat a Hasty Retreat When the Shooting Began and Escaped Safely.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—Frank J. Miller, a butler in the employ of J. L. Franklin, shot and killed John Anderson, a burglar, and was shot himself through the neck and dangerously wounded. When the police arrived on the scene the felon Miller lying unconscious on the floor with the dead robber lying across his feet. Miller has been unconscious most of the time since, but revived for a few minutes and said that about 5 o'clock he got up and went out for the morning paper. In the kitchen he was met by three men, who pointed pistols at his head and forced him to surrender.

Two men went upstairs to rob the house, leaving Miller guarded by the third robber. After the two men had been gone a little while Miller saw a chance and grabbed for the robber's pistol. The burglar jumped back and commenced firing, while Miller endeavored to get out his own pistol. It caught on his clothing, however, and fell to the floor. Miller struggled and grabbed it and fired. The two men then grappled and fell together.

At this point Miller again became unconscious and nothing more could be learned from him. Four shots had been fired at close range from each of the pistols, but only the two took effect, one passing through the brain of the robber and the other through Miller's neck.

The two burglars who went up stairs fled when the shooting began, leaving masks and tools behind them. The dead thief was identified by the police as John Anderson, a sailor with a criminal record.

About a year ago an attempt was made by two men to rob the Franklin residence. Miller stood the burglars off and was frightfully beaten by them.

DISASTROUS CONFLAGRATION.

Five Members of the Fire Brigade Killed and Forty Wounded.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—A dispatch from Panama says: The fire that swept through the city of Guayaquil, Ecuador, did not result in as many deaths as at first feared, but the property loss was much greater. Advances from Guayaquil state that only five members of the fire brigade were killed, though 40 were wounded, and several so severely that the death list may be increased.

More than 141 houses, including several public buildings of great beauty and one or more of historic interest, were destroyed. Among the latter were the cathedral. The loss is conservatively estimated at $4,000,000.

The panic that seized upon the people of that city hampered the work of the fire brigade, and it is really a wonder that the loss of life and property was not much greater.

THE INDICTMENT FAULTY.

Grand Jury Will Give Jackson and Walling Another Trial.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 15.—The indictment of the has found near the place where the body of Pearl Bryan was found is regarded as one of the most conclusive proofs that the crime of murder took place at that location and not in Cincinnati. There is further corroboration of this theory in the finding of a black bead such as was worn on the hat of the murdered girl very near where the body was left. This would indicate a struggle and some violence and that the hat was worn by the victim at that time and place. When found the hat was some distance away and was weighted down by a bowler tied in a handkerchief which has been identified as belonging to Jackson.

Search in the canal and other places for the missing head was unsuccessful. But the head is no longer needed to prove the crime or to point out the criminal, but the public jury for the friends of the murdered girl is so strong that awards amounting to nearly $1,000 have been offered for information that will lead to finding the head.

The fact that Jackson and Walling, who have freely told where they put the girl's clothes, still refuse the friends of their victim the information which would enable them to give Pearl Bryan's whole body decent interment, unfortunately, if possible, the leathery which their unparalleled brutality in this murder created.

The requisition moves slowly. Some error in the papers has required correction, and now it appears that the hastily drawn indictment has been found to be imperfect, and Judge Helm has instructed the grand jury to withdraw it and report another in corrected form.

It is said that opposition to the extradition will be made on the ground that there is danger of mob violence.

Brutal Before She Was Behaved.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 15.—The authorities here have a letter from Greenacres, Ind., in which the parents of Pearl Bryan identify the hat sent to them as that which belonged to Pearl, and gave other information that has led to all of the officers being employed in searching for the head. The canal was drained and different sections of workmen have examined its muddy basin, but nothing has yet been found, although the whole course of the canal was examined. The officers think now that the hat found near the body was Pearl's, that she was KNOCKED senseless, and that this head was probably badly beaten up before it was cut off.

Everything is being done to get all the evidence available on this side of the river so as to turn Jackson and Walling over to the Kentucky authorities.

A special says Governor Bradley has been examining the cases and requested Sheriff Blumner to return to Newport, Ky., for additional papers and evidence, and that he would then issue a requisition. Sheriff Blumner left Frankfort at noon. It is not expected that Jackson and Walling will be transferred before next week, as their lawyers will go to Governor Bushnell to contest the requisition.
